Introduction

The North End Club, a women's club, was founded in 1918 by 14 young mothers to do Red Cross work and to Exchange ideas and information on child rearing and housekeeping. With the end of the War the emphasis shifted to self-improvement and in time to more general community interests. The Club met twice a month during the school year. Originally the meetings were held in the Church of the Redeemer, but later moved to members' homes. The membership was expanded from the original 14 to 150. The first half of the meeting was devoted to official business and the second half was turned over to a speaker and ended with tea which permitted members to exchange ideas and get better acquainted.

The collection contains minutes of meetings, reports of the membership, nominating, program, teaspoon, and book review committees and some photographs and correspondence.
